Our investment edge is in our approach combined with our talent.

We are committed to offering our clients a different perspective on fixed income. Macroeconomic and policy inputs complement our credit research, nuancing the way we construct portfolios.

We have a deeply resourced team of investment specialists and a forensic approach to proprietary research. We work with clients to identify new areas of investment potential. Launching niche strategies and building bespoke solutions allows us to capitalise on what we believe to be the most compelling market and asset-class developments while seeking to capitalise on dispersion.
